Dear friends,

We are excited to share that the new school building in Andhra Pradesh is nearing completion. Our project partners have done a great job appointing professional architects and builders for the work, who have worked tirelessly to ensure the project stays within budget and is completed within a satisfactory timeframe.

The electrical wiring and plumbing have been completed, as well as the floor tiles, and the interior and exterior paintwork is in progress. The next stage is to build a school gate and compound wall around the building, a playground area for the children, and to complete the demolition of the old school building.

Thank you so much for your generous support in helping us get this far. None of this would be possible without you. You have faithfully given and prayed for this wonderful work. Many more generations will benefit from a good quality Christian education. All of this will give students better prospects, helping lift them out of poverty. It can also protect them from the dangers of trafficking and child labour. The children and teachers are very eager to start learning in their new school and are so grateful for your support. We hope that in our next newsletter, we can share that the Life Christian School is open. It is not too late to donate; please visit our website or write to us using the address below if you would like to make a one-off or regular donation to this essential work.

God bless you,

Lisa and the Life Association team
